Philosophy

As educators, we recognise and value children as active members of our kindergarten community. We provide an inclusive environment identifying the importance of children's sense of belonging to support developing themselves as learners. We therefore place great importance on building relationships that are caring, open, collaborative, respectful and supportive. We have high expectations for children, therefore position children as active learners, with a sense of ownership where their 'voice', their culture, their identity and their experiences are acknowledged. As educators, we understand our role in supporting children to strive for and reach their full potential.
